Intelligent Life: Artwork by Julia Sinelnikova

📅 8.01 - 11.11

Curated by Common Ground Arts

Julia Sinelnikova's large-scale reflective sculpture in the lobby of 5 Manhattan West celebrates the mysterious, intelligent life that can be found deep in the ocean and highlights the importance of environmental conservation. Sinelnikova references the iridescence, bioluminescence, and the camouflaging and complex patterns of underwater organisms – characteristics akin to technology that humans have only recently harnessed – by using shimmering materials and a wall of LED lights to create a fantastical, dreamlike visual that brings attention to the magical qualities of the sea.

Created entirely from biodegradable or recycled materials, Intelligent Life illuminates a web of translucent crystalline forms suspended over a giant reflective surface. The lights are programmed with a pattern of motion that dances throughout the structure, inspired by the characteristics of cuttlefish, firefly squid, and various sea life local to the waterways around New York City. Sinelnikova hopes that the work will provide visitors with a reflective, ethereal, and inspiring space in which to dream, think, and heal.
